Answers to the impossible quiz demo

[mc_champions_breadcrumbs crumb_titles="Champions" crumb_links="/champions" current_title="Training"] Mayo Clinic Champions program knowledge There are several different ways to participate. Select the best fit for you based on your interest and schedule. Choose any opportunity that reflects your style, skills and level of involvement. Example of social media sharing option. Online outreach For those who are active on social networks, we've made it easy for you to share the latest inspiring stories, health news and trends quickly with your friends and followers. You help spread trusted health information and hope to those you care about and reach those who are looking for answers in their healthcare journey. It's quick and easy to share. Start Sharing Community Outreach You have a unique health care story. We've provided easy ways for you to share your experience within your community. Through sharing your experience, you help others find comfort, answers and peace of mind. For sharing your story more broadly, Mayo has resources and guidance to prepare you for speaking with groups: Reach out and tell your story at local support groups, social clubs, faith-based organizations, or patient advocacy conferences. Use your experience to guide and comfort those who are thinking of visiting Mayo Clinic for their first time. It's as simple as posting responses to those who have questions. Help in your own way Help however you feel most comfortable, at your own pace. If there is a unique way you have shared about Mayo Clinic, let us know. Your fellow Champions and Mayo Clinic would love to hear about it. Your Score: Your Ranking: Image: Yuri_Arcurs / E+ / Getty Images There are too many branches of knowledge to list them all, and knowledge comes in all shapes and forms. A doctor might be knowledgeable at neurosurgery, and a farmer might be knowledgeable at weather patterns. A chimpanzee might know the most efficient way to peel a banana, and an engineer might know the most efficient way to build a bridge. There are just so many things to learn that it's impossible to learn them all. Very few people learn the square root of 289, the capital of Australia, the location of the North Star, the deepest location on Earth and the weight of Manhattan all at the same time. Very few people learn such a wide variety of knowledge at different times. And that's why it's impossible to know everything.Luckily for you, this quiz is only almost impossible. If you dig deep and try to remember everything you've ever learned in this history of your learning, you might be able to get every question correct on this quiz. You'll have to channel your social studies classes from years ago and combine them with the common sense street smarts you learn today to get these questions right, but it can be done. Do you think you can do it? Put your skills to the test and try to answer these nearly impossible knowledge questions.
