Blackmart Alpha is Continuously updating, So you can enjoy the updated app. Note: Like with any product, an app requires the developers' time, effort and money (cost) which he spends for the sake of making money (in some cases it is the primary or only source of livelihood for them). If everyone starts using pirated apps, the developers' time, effort and money (cost) which he spends for the sake of making money (cost) which he sak will run out of business (most of them already make very little money) and you won't find innovation going forward. Most paid apps are already very cheap. It would be nice if you spend your time trying to do productive things and buy the apps that will help with your requirements, instead of hunting for stolen products on the internet (which can also potentially harm your device). Downloading cracked apps is both illegal and unethical. All the effort a developer puts on an app-only pays off by the users buying it and that's all. If you don't buy it means no revenue for them.
