Once a visa is received for the Exchange visitor and come to u.s. To participate in your program, your need information on U.S. Immigration issues. It's not over. You will need to know how to keep your status and how to deal with various problems as if you and your family can work in the United States and if you can extend your stay or move to a different status in the United States. Find useful information and additional resources here. Candidates who win the Visa di Different lottery can, under the immigration law of U.S., extend that benefit for their spouses and children (which are less than 21 years old and unmarried). These spouses and children are called "derivatives". For a spouse or a child to get a diversity visa (an immigrant visa that leads to a green paper U.S.), the person must have been listed in the application of the online state department of the main applicant. If you intend to request the Visa di Difference lottery, this article will help you make sure you get the right people correctly entered on this application and provide suggestions about who is really suitable. Inserting spouse and child information on the visa of diversity visa online your application will have to include the name, date and place of birth for your spouse and all your non-u.s children. This includes all the kids adopted and step-by-step children. You have to list a child even if you are no longer married with your parent. You must include your spouse's information even if you're going to get a divorce. It is not necessary to list a spouse or a child who is already a citizen u.s. or a legitimate permanent resident (holder of the green paper); But it's a good idea to do it, especially if you have any doubts about the status of the immigration of the person's US. If you neglect to include a spouse or a child, he or she will not be suitable for a visa of diversity. In fact, if you do not list your spouse and all unmarried children and minus 21 at the time of your application of the diversity visa online, then you will be disqualified and all listed in the application will be denied the visas at the time of the visa or interview of the card green. The fact that you have listed a family member about your question does not mean that he or she has to come to the United States with you. Any person listed on the question has the choice to stay back. Keeping children eligible through the visa interview as mentioned above, children must have the minimum of 21 years to qualify for a green card based on diversity visa. But what happens if a son of your will 21 before the application process (which could take several months) is completed? The child could still be able to obtain a diversity visa, based on a law called "protecting the child status" or CSPA. You will need to count the number of days between the start of the application of the Visa lottery and the date selected by the applicant. Then subtract this quantity of time from the baby's age on the date on which you are able to get a visa. Important is important that your children must remain unmarried until they have become permanent residents in the United States. This means through the interview of the visa, and just until they enter the United States. With their immigrant immigrant When they become permanent residents at the entrance. Remember to all the children who are evaluating the marriage of this fact. More than the probability of immigration of young people have been destroyed by last-minute marriages. Posting DV applications For both spouses in a couple that both married partners can, if they are both native to a qualifying country, send an entry into the Visa di Difference lottery. This is strategically important because, if it is selected, the other can get a visa through the winner. Basically doubles your chances to win. The government of the United States recognizes the same sex weddings for immigration purposes, and the married couples of the same sex can list each other as spouses on a Visa lottery application. The same sex couple must be considered legally married according to the state or the country where the marriage recognized by the government was held. If the winner of the primary diversity visa dies unfortunately, if a candidate of the Lottery Visa dies before the visa of diversity is granted by the consulate or government of the United States, so the spouse and any child cannot get seen.
