Spiritual Response Therapy: A Quick Path to Inner Transformation
Spiritual Response Therapy (SRT) is a groundbreaking technique that unlocks personal healing and accelerates personal growth. By targeting the subconscious mind and soul records, SRT identifies and clears limiting ideas, promoting a happier life. Developed by Robert E. Detzler, this system has empowered thousands since 1988. Through SRT, individuals tap into their "High Self" using a pendulum to bypass conscious mind barriers and negative programming. This process enables the release of past life energies, subconscious blocks, and negative soul programming, paving the way for inner transformation. SRT can be used to clear past lives, traumas, and psychic wounds, allowing individuals to tap into their full potential. The technique is taught in various classes, including the SRT Basic (27 hours) and Advanced courses. These programs provide expert guidance on communicating with one's High Self, clearing subconscious negativity, and releasing emotional blockages. By applying SRT, individuals can experience profound shifts in their lives, including improved relationships, increased self-awareness, and a deeper connection to their inner selves. With the help of Certified SRT Teachers, students can explore advanced techniques and refine their skills. Looking for spiritual restructuring classes or completion certificates? Our SpR class (6-7 days) helps you work with all body systems to balance and heal your energy. You'll learn: * Body Alignment: Physically and spiritually adjust joints, vertebrae, and muscles to improve movement. * Muscle Treatment: Release tension using gentle touch and massage techniques. * Nutrition: Learn what foods support various body systems. * Balancing for Brain/Mind Meld: Work with the soul and brain to release discordant programming. * Meditation and Emotional Release: Connect with suppressed emotions through guided meditations. * Spiritual Healing of Organs and Glands: Vibrationally replace removed organs using spiritual energy. SpR Review classes are available for those who completed the SpR class with a Certified SpR Teacher. You may be asked to provide your completion certificates for verification. --- For those interested in Robert Detzler's work on Spiritual Response Technique (SRT), his books offer insights into the method and its applications: * „The Freedom Path“: This book covers the basics of SRT and includes spiritual response tables necessary for the work. * „Soul Re-Creation“: A step-by-step guide to overcoming negative patterns in life, using tools to communicate with your higher self, explore past lives, discover spiritual connections, and program your life for love, joy, and spiritual purpose. These books are available on Amazon for easy purchase. Robert E. Detzler hat Spiritual Response Therapy entwickelt und ist Mitbegründer der Spiritual Response Association in Washington State, USA. Seine Bücher erklären, wie Menschen ihre eigene Energieheilung für eine bessere Gesundheit, Glück und Wohlstand anwenden können. In seinem dritten Buch „Spiritual Healing“ stellt Robert ein dynamisches System vor, bei dem man mit seinem spirituellen Komitee zusammenarbeitet, um zu bestimmen, was der Körper für die Heilung benötigt. Ergänzende Energien werden dann durch eine Reihe von anwendbaren Diagrammen und Mustern verwendet. Diese Schwingungshilfen wurden von Roberts spirituelles Komitee gechannelt oder von einigen seiner Schüler*innen empfangen. Robert nennt sein spirituelles Komitee „mein höheres Selbst“. Die Erklärung und der Prozess, wie man mit seinem höheren Selbst arbeitet, um die Heilungstechniken, Diagramme und Muster anzuwenden, werden in diesem Buch vollständig erklärt. Alles in unserer Welt besteht aus Schwingungen. Liebe ist eine sehr kraftvolle Energie, während Hass, Angst und Zwietracht aus niedrigeren Energien bestehen. Die hier enthaltenen Muster schwingen sehr hoch und können dem Körper helfen, von der disharmonischen Energie zur harmonischen Energie zu wechseln. Das Buch präsentiert spezifische Schritte zur Anwendung von 214 vibrationalen Mustern für spirituelles Heilen. Es enthält auch zwei beschreibende Tabellen zur Unterstützung bei der Transformation von physischer und emotionaler Gesundheit. „Spiritual Healing“ umfasst unter anderem Kraftvolle vibrationale Heilmuster, Auflösen von Disharmonien und Anwendung von Liebe-Symbolen für positive Ausdrucksweise. Das Buch ist auf Englisch, jedoch können die kraftvollen Muster & Zeichen eingesetzt werden, egal welche Sprache man spricht. Spiritual Response Therapy: A System for Researching the Subconscious Mind
Spiritual Response Therapy (SRT) is a chart-based system developed by Mr. Robert E. Detzler to explore and release negative thoughts and limiting concepts in the subconscious mind. This therapy aims to help individuals identify and clear discordant energies, allowing them to access their soul records and address root causes of problems. By connecting with one's inner guidance (High Self/Spirit), SRT enables users to quickly find and release negative programming, replacing it with positive energy and inner peace. The system accepts the premise that past experiences in both spiritual and incarnational realms can shape an individual's current state, holding them back from realizing their full potential. The Spiritual Response Association (SRA) seeks to empower others through SRT and Spiritual Restructuring, promoting values such as Compassion, Support, Respect, Integrity, Freedom, Transformation, and Well-Being. By removing past obstacles and clarifying one's vision, individuals can manifest a positive future for themselves and the planet. Robert Detzler discovered this therapy in 1985, inspired by Dr. Clark Cameron's "Response Therapy" method, which used pendulums to investigate and correct problems in the subconscious mind. The original 8-word question set was later published on card 4A in 1989, and Detzler expanded upon it with 5 additional words to create a simpler system involving circular-shaped cards. De ontwikkeling van Spiritual Response Therapy (SRT) begon toen Robert E. Detzler een manier vond om te achterhalen wat mensen bedoelden met hun spirituele zoektocht. Dit leidde tot het schrijven van zijn boek "Your Mind Net" in 1988, dat kort na de introductie tijdens een workshop werd gepubliceerd. Het boek werd later heruitgegeven onder de titel "The Freedom Path" en wordt gebruikt als basis voor de basiscursus SRT. Deze methode was zo succesvol dat Detzler in 1989 besloot te stoppen met zijn werk bij de Unity Church, om zich volledig te richten op het ontwikkelen van SRT. De methode kreeg voldoende aandacht dat het aantal SRT-kaarten dat hij had gecreëerd al snel op 18 steeg. In 1990 besloten Robert en zijn vrouw Mary-Ann om workshops te geven over SRT in de hele Verenigde Staten. Het jaar daarop werd de Spiritual Response Association (SRA) opgericht, met een kerngroep van zes tot negen leden die Detzler bijstond. In 1994 nam Robert deel aan de World Healing Exhibition in Groot-Brittannië, waar hij zijn methode demonstratief toonde. Het jaar daarop hield hij zijn eerste training in Londen en richtte hij zich op het ontwikkelen van SRT met behulp van bijeenkomsten in zijn huis. To achieve better health, it's often necessary to address blocks that originate from within oneself. SRT (Spiritual Response Therapy) is a holistic approach that helps individuals clear soul-level energy blockages and understand their spiritual response to life experiences. By researching and clearing subconscious mind and soul records of past life discordant energies, individuals can break free from the negative influences that prevent them from achieving success, prosperity, joy, or happiness. SRT is not meant to replace medical care but rather serves as a tool in a comprehensive approach to overall well-being. Many clients have experienced remarkable improvements in their health after using SRT, including a woman who had her platelet count increase significantly enough to delay surgery, and another client who no longer struggled with depression after clearing past life energies. Through the SRT method, individuals can discover the root causes of their health issues and work towards healing. By addressing negative charges related to prosperity, success, and happiness, clients have seen a positive impact on their lives, including increased income and emotional stability. While SRT should be used in conjunction with professional medical care, it has been shown to significantly influence one's health in a positive way. There are countless inspiring tales of overcoming being "stuck." This work is genuinely impressive, yielding remarkable results. Since SRT operates at an individual soul level, cleansing sessions can be performed either in person or remotely. Typically, a clearing session entails researching soul programs, addressing specific issues, and explaining the research and cleansing processes undertaken. Qualified SRT consultants and instructors are located worldwide; their credentials can be found on the Spiritual Response Association's website (www.spiritualresponse.com). Most consultants and teachers accept clearing session requests over the phone or via written correspondence (email). The certified professionals are listed by location to facilitate finding someone in your vicinity.
