Greatest Hits Radio run cash competitions for vast amounts of money with no effort required other than answering your phone if you get lucky with the miniscule chance of winning. Currently they appear to cost 2.50 to enter, but to comply with the law, they must provide a free route of entry and Greatest Hits (and other Bauer Radio stations) are careful with their phrasing to make sure that most people don't realise there is a free route to entry - after all who would pay 2.50 to enter a competition when others are entering for free (up to 150 times!). Also, the 0330 numbers they used have to be standard network rate phone calls and therefore ARE normally included in phone bundles. (Over 150,000 entries must be gathered from people to make the current 350k competition profitable).The automated call takes about a minute to read a brief set of terms and confirm the number called from.Please make sure anyone you know entering these cash prize competitions is aware that there must be a free entry route. Note the Phone Entry No Purchase Necessary entry make sure all your friends know that these Bauer Radio competitions have a free entry route, and they should never spend large sums of money when someone else with an hour and a half to waste can get 150 entries for nothing but their time (no interaction required). SearchThe UKs biggest radio competition, normally running Monday to Friday. Listen in to Hits Radio network stations to find the weeks amount, or check here! You can enter online, by phone, or by SMS (see below). Check back to on the day of the draw to find out the cash register amount today. You must know the prize amount to win. Unlike Make Me A Winner, you do not need to answer with a phrase. Make me a Winner and Cash Register tend to alternate, meaning that one of the two are normally active.The Cash Register used to be a daily competition with quite random prize amounts. For this summer at least, its changed to a weekly competition with fairly round numbers. This is a bit less interesting, but I guess the network makes more money this way. On the flip side, you dont need to spend as long completing the free entries.Answer the phone within five rings after the lines close at 5pm, and know todays Cash Register amount (above). Entries are only valid from the United Kingdom, and you can enter by calling 0330 880 4557, which may be free if your contract has inclusive minutes. You can enter up to 60 times this way, but the maximum entries can be higher if they have a special offer on paid entries. Basically, keep entering until you get an engaged tone or a message that states you have reached the maximum amount of entries.You can text CASH to 61054 (up to 12 times), which will cost 2 plus your network charge. Alternatively, the you can buy entries online. I really wouldnt recommend any of the paid entry options they are quite expensive and the odds of winning are very low.If you have a phone contract with inclusive minutes (most have free calls and texts, so check) then you probably can. Check your phone contract if you are unsure. Its a bit more hassle than the old online entry, but on the flip side it probably means that less people are going to do it. That would give you a greater chance of winning!You can autodial an entry by using commas. A single comma represents a 2 second delay, and you just add the number 1 at the appropriate points. For example: 03308804541,1,,,,,,,,1 should work for this competition. Alternatively, use the links below to make the call. Is this allowed? I think so, but Im not a lawyer.Call the competition line directly below:The General Terms and Conditions have this to say:Automated Entry: The use of any automated entry software or any other mechanical or electronic means that permits any person to enter any Competition repeatedly is prohibited.Using the automated dial sequence does not allow you to enter repeatedly, it allows you to automate button presses after you have made the call. I think thats fine, but you may interpret the above differently. Full competition details can be found on the official Cash Register website.The Hits Radio Networks competitions have handed out over 11,000,000 so far this year. Its wonderfully simple listen in to one of their stations and make a note of the weeks amount. It could be a nice round number, or it could be something a bit trickier such as 74,123.45 (yes, it can go down to pence). Write the amount down, or check back in here before the call to make sure you know the exact prize amount.A lucky entrant will be selected and called around 5pm; the call must be answered within 5 rings and contestant must know the exact amount. So dont leave your phone on silent or forget how much is up for grabs its terrible to hear people get it wrong!The competitions terms and conditions are in addition to Bauer Media Groups Competition General Terms & Conditions.The competition runs across the following radio stations:Absolute Radio, Absolute Radio 60s, Absolute Radio 70s, Absolute 80s, Absolute Radio 90s, Absolute Radio 00s, Absolute Radio 10s, Absolute Radio 20s, Absolute Radio Classic Rock, Absolute Radio Country, Clyde 1, Cool FM, Cool Old Skool, Downtown Country, Downtown Radio, Forth 1, Greatest Hits Radio, Heat Radio, Hits Radio, Hits Radio Pride, Jazz FM, Kerrang! The terms and conditions dont actually state a time period for the phone call, so it could happen any time after the entries close.The calls are edited before airing, which is why it seems like the call happens quite a bit later.Just as though you got the prize amount wrong, failing to answer within five rings means that you miss out. Dont fret too much if you did miss a call at around the right time; statistically it is very unlikely to have been the radio network.There have been hundreds of cash register winners over the years. You can see some of the more recent successful entrants and listen to them receiving their phone call on the competitions winners page.This is such a popular competition that, unfortunately, some scammers have appeared to take advantage of people. Most of these are on social media and claim to get you extra free entries. Dont enter your personal details on anything other than the official competition website. If you have in the past and you get a phone call, remember that you would never be asked for your bank card number.Todays amountExplanationUK Rules and EntryCan you still enter for free?Are autodial entries allowed?More About the CompetitionAlternative phone numbersWhen is the winning call made?What if I dont answer the phone?Previous winnersBeware of scamsWe try our best to make sure that the information listed here is accurate, but can take no responsibility if it is incorrect (were only human).
