A school letter of intent is a type of letter of presentation used to introduce a seeker to the committee that crosses school applications. A typical intent school letter consists of a header, greeting, body and closure. The contents of the letter should include the appellant's personal history and / or academic and extra-curricular results and awards. This letter is the key to an application, since sets the tone for the rest of the documents within the application of the individual. By giving a school letter of intent, also known as a "Stamet on purpose", "it is an accompanying letter that is linked to the individual school application. The contents of the Letter of Intent vary according to the applicant, the program or the school to which they are applying and the Committee responsible for applications. Typically, the individual writing of the letter can use this opportunity to get a little more personal regarding their goals, aspirations and their life that leads to this moment. Another approach would be to highlight some exceptional academic, school and / or extra-curricular results that could bring out the applicant between the plethora of admission packages that receives the admissions department. The admissions department takes many factors into consideration when determining if an individual is a candidate worthy for the school. If the applicant can express a real interest in the letter and can demonstrate the value that both parties will earn from the admission of the individual, they will have better possibility to acceptance. My family has always lived in Phoenix and I like the idea of Stay close to my family while I continue my education. Collegeamerica has a reputation to provide students to educate focused on career and personalized help they need to start a great career. For me personally, I am interested in the application of CYBERSECURITY & NETWORKING PROGRAM. I believe this is the perfect opportunity to deepen the field of technology that passions me and increases the skills and talents I have refined during my secondar education ia. I graduated in June this year at the top of 5% of my class. My votes in computer programming and repair, calculation, algebra 1 and 2 and statistics were all a
