New grass type pokémon sword and shield

The new Pokémon of Sword and Shield continues to be one of the main designs of the latest generation of Pokémon games; with the fascinating blend of dual-types, more creative designs, Gen 8 was revealed a very interesting generation. Now that Sword and Shield has been released, we can reveal the complete list of Gen 8 Pokémon, including their details and a brief description from their Pokédex entries. We also included the new Gen 8 Pokémon that will be released along with the Pokémon Sword and Shield Expansion Pass. There may be new Pokémon added to this list in the future.
KubfuCategory: Wushu PokémonType: FightingHeight: 2'Weight: 26.5 lbsAbility: Inner FocusKubfu is a new Legendary Pokémon. Description: "This Pokémon is laborious and strives to form both its body and mind. He uses every defeat as motivation, training with even more vigor after a loss to grow stronger. It has an organ that produces "fighting energy" in its lower abdomen, and before going to battle, Kubfu will increase this energy through unique breathing techniques and intense fire. Wild Kubfu lives in mountainous areas away from the Galar region, but once it was a species he called Galar his home. It is shown in historical texts that this species was usually heading towards uncharted lands with people, as they established themselves to trade and explore. The records suggest that the Kubfu living in distant mountains today might have descended from Kubfu who became naturalized to the distant lands they visited on their trips."
