The Master Trainers in LegoÂ.Â® Serious Method PlayÂ.Â® PorcelÃf j Nshaven 3N 2000 Frederiksberg Denmark VAT: DK 35.975.527 Review of Martin Gilbraith, London UK, October 2020i I am entrusted by entrusting to you this book 'How to facilitate the Meetings and workshops using LEGO (R) Serious Play (R) Online method '. Here there are three WHY reasons. I know Sean, and that he is a competent, expert and accomplished facilitator. The questions are the primary tool of every facilitator, and I know he asks good questions and that he asks them well. In an early Meetup of IAF England and Wales, in London in 2013, perhaps, asked the question: 'There is something like a universal principle of facilitation' I didn't think much about thinking and respond that, in my facilitation At least, there is certainly something that is approaching, which - the " Orid model subtends of the top focused conversation method and the top methodology as a whole. I know that Sean has since integrated this approach to him, and in his previous book 'Mastering The Legø Serious Play Method'. I was sufficiently inspired by the ORID metaphor as a universal principle that I blogged on it then and used it in my training since then. Many facilitators quickly developed a specialization in work online this year, like Sean and I have too. Some have done more quickly and easily than others, and some with greater enthusiasm. Most, in my experience, they have had reservations about some of the real online facilitation limits. Only recently I think more than we are becoming more aware of some equally real limitations of face to face, and some real advantages of online work. So it's not just Lego Serious practitioners games that could take heart and find inspiration in the many innovations that Sean actions in this book. There is a lot here for all of us to learn from - no less important, the rigor and creativity with which he has designed 'a digital process that uses bricks' [replace your favorite tool or the method here] rather than a Similarly similar process made online '. I have heard that, in online facilitation, each participant brings their share of the meeting room with them. This is a challenge for Legø serious practitioners to play perhaps more than all, and the one to which this book stands admirably. As Sean clarifies in his guiding principles, success in achieving results rather than only the commitment through facilitation comes largely from planning and preparation, and from the ability to deviate easily from the plan when the moment requires improvisation. Finally, we are in the middle of an emergency climate, as well as an emergency of public health. I believe that the two are not strangers, and requiring new forms of connection, communicating and collaborating that they are fewer carbon emissions as well as more secure Covid-19, and that are more creative, compassionate and enable as well. I believe that facilitation has a central role to play on the latter, with bricks and without, and that the design and distribution of easy online facilitation must have a role on the formers. I we tessed an extraordinary flowering of creativity and innovation between The facilitators in response to the pandemic and Lockdown of the last months, and an extraordinary generosity of sharing it as well - largely, of course, online. I am pleased to see this precious and timely book new enter the fray, and just in time for international week facilitation! I am proud to be able to welcome you to it, and grateful to Sean for sharing it. First Sean is a professional facilitator. He founded pronge an international facilitation business in 2007, where he works with organizations including HSBC, Google, Cisco, Pfizer, Coca-Cola, Dense UKTI, the Interamerican development bank and many others! Using metaphors metaphors building challenge: Participants are challenged by construction activities that are critical to the method. Metaphors are used to offer 3D illustration of the issue at stake. Give hands a voice: The method LEGOÂ ® SERIOUS Playa ® celebrates a practical approach. In a fairly short time, participants are required to handle and assemble bricks with no time to think properly. These rapid building exercises are focused on the quality of opposition at the thought. This process is a vital cog, instrumental to any workshop using this method. Through the training received, a certified facilitator knows how to design and run a workshop with the LEGOÂ method Â® SEVERE Playa ®. Narration: Once participants have built their Legø method, they need to go through it as they would tell a short story. A certified facilitator will be able to ask the right questions in the right way. Other participants can also ask the 3D model creator for more information about its creation. The prefrontal cortex: The use of this part of the brain used to establish new brain connections than those that govern the usual perception of the world around us. In the context of LEGOÂ method SERIOUS Playa ® ®, these new connections foster creativity and imagination. neuroscience experts say the method LEGOÂ ® SERIOUS Playa ® puts people back in early childhood, when training barriers were not incorporated in the mind, allowing you to create without constraints. The certificate facilitator will know how to create a space for creativity gaining trust amongs participants. He knows how to encourage participants to use their hands and playing with bricks instead of overthinking. Flow: The flow was mental involvement of a person totally immersed in an activity. The certified facilitator knows how to keep the positive and active commitment of participants at the workshop, in order to ensure good group dynamics and create optimal learning and fun experience. Ethic: The success of a workshop also lies in understanding the ethical rules surrounding the LEGOÂ ® SERIOUS Playa ®. At the beginning of the workshop the certificate facilitator explains the rules for the group of participants. Simples et-to-the-point, promoting mutual respect in order to build trust between the participants and encourage them to let go and to use their imagination. The importance of the facilitator: In order to ensure the success of a workshop LEGOÂ ® SERIOUS Playa ®, is critical to ensure that the facilitator is certified by the Master Trainers Association with LEGOÂ method ® SERIOUS Play.Â®. At the end of the training, a certificate is given to the person who has completed the course. Why © paying attention? This certification is the only way to ensure the success of a workshop with the method LEGOÂ ® SERIOUS Play.Â®. This is the guarantee that a professional is able to master, implement and maintain the application techniques, the method and the role of facilitator. In the case of a high number of participants, several facilitators are needed. A facilitator can oversee a group of about eight (8) participants. So, a group of 50 people will not be less than 6 facilitators require. It goes without saying that their relative © certification must be verified. The certificate facilitator is guarantor of compliance with the method. He masters: The core process that governs the course of exercises, implementation and programming of the implementation techniques of LEGOÂ 7 ® ® SERIOUS Play.Â Ethics in flux techniques to Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi addition, he is able to adapt to different risks that may occur during the workshop. He is able to handle objections, may The laboratory procedure according to the needs of the organization and its evolution in compliance with techniques and methodologies. Furthermore, he holds the keys to obtain the active participation of all the members of the laboratory, giving everyone the possibility of themselves freely and in conditions of parity. The certified facilitator outlines the workshop agenda. This diary outlines the history and duration of the exercises. It is also a way to ensure the timely implementation of implementation techniques 7 and the basic process process. The role of the facilitator: the certified facilitator knows how to guarantee the success of a workshop: taking care of the logistics, selecting the brick kit according to the laboratory, collecting the exercises according to the goal of choosing the heating exercises (construction skill) creating The challenges in the right way casing-up the results of the workshop (main finds) during the workshop, the facilitator adopts a particular posture in the way of setting the challenges, in order to guarantee timely execution but also and in particular to ask questions and To maintain a high commitment to all participants so that the dynamic laboratory stay (flow). The art of asking questions - the formulation - is fundamental to allow people to express themselves freely, thus favoring the generation of ideas, which is a key element of a session. The role of the facilitator is not to reformulate what the participants say. This is a matter of asking participants questions in the right way so that they express themselves in confidence and that the arguments come from them and only them. As you have understood, the Legø.Â® Serio PlayÂ.Â® method is a serious game whose success is pinned to the professionalism of the facilitator. This post will help you make sure that the Worshop is adequately prepared for the organization. Why get a facilitator certification with the Serio PlayÂ.Â® Legø.Â® method? This is a structured method that has been tried and tested for over 10 years requiring a particular pedagogical approach. The Legø.Â® Serio PlayÂ.Â® method comes from neuroscience. It was designed by the LEGO Group R & D team, with the researchers of the MIT and the imagilab Lausanne. Anyone interested in such a certification wants Â Â € œThe shake things is "in their organization by relying on individual contributions. Solutions then born from the 3D models created by all interested parties of the organization's problem is facing. In a group, the best ideas can also come from those who are less inclined to express their opinion because of their personal or hierarchial position. With the Legø.Â® Serious PlayÂ.Â® method, anyone can express its unique through the common language of Legø.Â® bricks, without the fear of being judged.The contributions from each participants are taken into consideration and integrated into work of the group . This innovative approach guarantees 100% commitment, participation and generation of ideas by participants. This is why the Legø.Â.Â® Serio PlayÂ.Â® method is unique. During a workshop, the Methode Legø.Â® Serious PlayÂ.Â® triggers a mechanism of unusual thought in relation to our traditional ways to think. This mechanism mobilizes other neural connections and promotes the birth of new ideas: Â.Â Â«The hands build the brain." The Serio PlayÂ.Â® Serio PlayÂ.Â® method facilitates the decision-making process through a 3D construction collective Essential components of the context and its stakeholders. And then it becomes particularly simple and fast to try various scenarios and see the La that shared solutions can have, without assuming any risk. Facilitators working toward their certification seriously LEGOÂ® method Play.Â ® COMMITMENT TO PROVIDING Meaning in shares The human brain combines the information coming from the outside in order for the body to survive. If the brain undergoes an abrupt change of the environment, you will have to adapt or die. The same applies to companies. LEGOÂ® offers a new language, concept and methodology to address those violations in real time. The construction with brick Legø.Â® establishes a metaphor, which facilitates the division of objectives, communication within teams and solving complex problems. The 3D buildings operated by hand allows to make sense, increase creativity, materialize our imagination, establish connections with the environment, a lot more instantly and efficiently than other approaches. Set up and tell our story to allow people to share their identities and opinions with others, safely explore the previous actions and future strategies, giving meaning and context of the created models. Benefits for an action strategy in real time: more rapid understanding and conception of the project through "stories" and metaphors (Conception 3 times faster project developed by traditional methods). Insight of each opportunity, the unexpected in complex environments. Real-time decision, make strategic choices, establishing an operational action plan. Involvement and commitment of each person affected by the implementation of the project, where the action happens, the historical review methodology developed during the period 2000 to Imagelab from "University Â € de Lausanne" and Legø Corporation. This process is based on three different types of imagination: descriptive imagination supported by tangible realities and potentials of the project. Creative imagination that provides new opportunities from the (re) -Combination concepts. Imagination with critical deconstruction or critical to rebound to a new solution.
